in the international community?

Are you interested in meeting both local Atlanta
and international professionals?

If yes, join us for a great event where networking expert Amy Kilpatrick will kick-off the evening with her presentation, “The In Crowd: How to be an intentional Networker.” Amy is co-founder of Nspired Networking and an Executive Director for BNI, the world’s largest referral organization. As a corporate speaker, Amy travels around the country inspiring networkers by sharing techniques for turning your networking activities into profits. An organized round of speed networking will follow her presentation, allowing participants to put to good use the tips Amy shares.
